Delaque and Orlock gangs fight it out in the heart of the Underhive.

Kislev cavalry valiantly defend the bridge in front of an Empire farmstead against a Chaos attack.
Important

Citadel Miniatures are intended for collectors, modellers and gamers.

They are not Toys

Our plastic miniatures are not suitable for children under 36 months due to small parts and essential pointed components.

Our metal models contain lead which can be harmful if ingested, but there is no real danger if you are sensible. Please follow these simple instructions:

Do not put them in your mouth or lick them.

Do not buy them for or give them to small children.

Our metal miniatures should never be given to children under the age of 14 years, nor to anyone you cannot trust not to suck them.

Citadel miniatures are supplied unpainted and without banners. For painting your miniatures we recommend Citadel paints and brushes. Where our models require construction, we recommend you use Citadel Polystyrene Cement and Citadel Superglue.

WELCOME TO THE CITADEL MINIATURES 1995/6 ANNUAL

This annual has been put together from miniature pages included in the Codex and Armies series of books, the earlier Citadel Catalogues and the pages of White Dwarf magazine. The featured models are all available from Games Workshop stores or from Games Workshop Mail Order. You may also find a reasonable proportion of them in good high street toy or hobby stores.

Getting Started
As you flick through the thousands of miniatures in this annual you'll see that each photograph is accompanied with a brief description of the model and a unique identifying number. This makes it easy to identify any individual miniature from any of the ranges. You'll also find that the different sections have been organised by race or army to make it easy to find the models you need to build up your own collection.

Where to Buy Citadel Miniatures
Once you've decided which models you want, the best way to buy Citadel miniatures is to visit a Games Workshop store. Here you'll find all of the current range of miniatures on display together with examples of painted armies. All of the staff at Games Workshop are gamers and they'll be happy to give you advice on your army selection and offer tactical suggestions and tips to help you get the best from your troops.

All Games Workshop stores also run a weekly games night where you can learn more about your favourite games or pick up useful tactics to try out in your own games.

If There's no Store in Your Area?
Although Britain is now well served with Games Workshop stores, it may not always be convenient for you to visit your nearest shop. However, there are now many fine model and toy shops that stock Games Workshop products, so why not try asking at your local toy or hobby shop, who will be usually more than willing to help.

If You Still Can't Find What You Need...
Luckily, if you still can't find what you need, there is one place to obtain the complete range of Games Workshop games and Citadel miniatures - our Mail Order department.
Our Mail Order department is staffed by enthusiastic Trolls and Gretchin who are specially trained to search in every dark corner of our forges and to lick horrible-tasting stamps. They ensure that we can supply you with everything we have ever made that you might possibly need for your armies.

Games Workshop's Mail Order Service
Based at our head office in Eastwood, Nottingham, Games Workshop's Mail Order service has access to every model that's in production, and quite a few things that aren't. Some of the Trolls have even been trained to cast models from their secret stash of discontinued moulds!
If you can't find what you need elsewhere give us a ring and find out more about the special services we provide.

Casting Metal Models
All of our models are hand cast in our busy Eastwood factory by skilled craftsmen. Even so, the nature of the manufacturing process means that you should always expect minor variations in the finish of individual castings.

The most common variation consists of small pieces of excess metal known as "flash". This is either a thin line of metal formed where the two halves of the mould join, or thin slivers of excess metal which has run down the air-vents in the mould.
Most models will also show a visible "mould line" and occasionally rough edges can be found on a miniature where the edges of the mould are slightly worn.
All of these effects are unavoidable, but fortunately the models can be easily cleaned up using a small file. You could also use a modelling knife, but if you do please take special care. Although it seems obvious to us that they are very sharp, every year someone... somewhere slices a piece of their finger off with one - don't let it be you!

Preparing your models in this way is an integral and enjoyable part of the process of assembling and painting your miniatures, and is part of the pleasure and challenge of modelling. It is at this stage that many people also like to convert their miniatures, by slightly altering the pose, or adding bits from other models and kits.
Multi-piece castings, of course, have to be glued together. Because the models are cast in rubber moulds, there is always a small amount of variance in the fit of individual components and so a certain amount of cleaning and filling is usually required to assemble the model.

Slottabases
The majority of Citadel models are supplied with their own plastic base. When you've cleaned your models, simply superglue them into their slottabase. Some people remove the slot on plastic miniatures and glue the model in a different position on the base. This is sometimes done to help the models form up neatly in ranks without touching each other.

Multi-Piece Kits
Many of our more interesting models come as multi-part kits. You really do require a moderate level of skill to assemble them and so they may prove too difficult for young or inexperienced modellers. If you are unsure about any particular model, then please drop into a store or phone our Mail Order staff for advice.
When assembling multi-part models, small metal components can be stuck together with an adhesive such as super-glue, but larger pieces require the use of stronger adhesive like an epoxy resin. While the glue is setting, the components can be held firmly together with plasticine or sticky tape.

Plastic Models

When assembling plastic models, carefully remove all the plastic components from their sprues with clippers. It's best not to use a knife as you may damage the models or cut yourself. Never just twist them off as this may stretch or distort the pieces. Plastic kits and figures are best glued together using Citadel polystyrene cement.

Plastic Arms and Weapons

To allow you greater freedom to personalise your models and to provide a greater variety of poses we now include separate plastic arms, weapons and shields for many of our miniatures. To fit them to your models, first carefully cut the desired part from the sprue and then use a piece of blue-tac or modelling putty to temporarily stick the pieces to your model. In this way, you can experiment with different poses until your model looks just right. Finally, remove the blue-tac and fit the piece into position with a dab of superglue or polystyrene cement. You'll probably have to hold the components together for a few seconds until the glue dries, so if you are using superglue keep it away from your fingers or you may end up with a very unusual conversion!

Painting your Models

There's nothing that looks better on the wargames table than units of well painted soldiers. They'll scare your opponents more than good tactics! To make your armies look really good Games Workshop manufacture a range of paints and washes specifically designed for our models.

Citadel Colours are a water-based acrylic paints. They are easily mixed together, allowing you to create any shade you require. Unlike oil-based paints, they're also a lot simpler to clean up if you spill them!

We strongly recommend that you undercoat all your models before painting them. Our paints are formulated so they can be used direct onto metal or plastic, but an undercoat gives a much better surface to paint on to. If you use an undercoat your painting will look smoother and brighter.

You can either paint the undercoat on using our Skull White Citadel paint, or for an even better finish use Citadel black or white spray undercoat. If you are painting a Space Marine army, we also make spray paints that are a perfect match for the four main Space Marine Chapter colours – red (Blood Angels), blue (Ultramarines), green (Dark Angels) and grey (Space Wolves).

If you are going to play games with your models it's a good idea to give them a layer of protective varnish. This helps protect the paint against the knocks and scrapes they get on the battlefield. An aerosol varnish is the simplest way to provide this protection. Just make sure you wait at least 24 hours after painting a model to ensure the paint is good and dry before varnishing. Whether to use gloss or matt varnish is a matter of personal choice. Gloss varnish gives better protection, but many people don't like the shiny look it gives their models. As a result, lots of gamers first give their miniatures a coat of gloss varnish and then a final spray of matt to take away the shine.

Free Painting Guide

To learn about all aspects of figure painting why not get our free 16 page full colour painting guide. This booklet explains in far greater detail about preparing and painting metal and plastic Citadel miniatures and will prove useful to beginners and experienced painter alike. This booklet is available from all Games Workshop stores or you can send us a large, A4-sized, stamped, self-addressed envelope marked 'Painting Guide' and we will ship one to you straight away.

Games Workshop Games

If you want to buy any of our range of games and books it is usually best to visit a Games Workshop. However, we do appreciate that some of our customers can't do this so all our games, books and models are available through Mail Order.

Rules Enquiries

When you play Games Workshop games, situations will arise which just don't seem to be covered in the rules. Don't panic, this happens to everyone. Our games are complex evolving systems and despite our best attempts, it really is impossible to write a rulebook that covers every interpretation of the rules and gaming situation. The first step is to re-read the section of the rules concerned. If this doesn't sort the problem out see if you and your opponent can agree a common sense solution at least until the end of the game. If you really can't agree then roll a dice and get on with the game!

If you cannot sort the problem out or need a more permanent solution you can contact Mail Order. Like yourselves, the Mail Order Gretchin are enthusiastic gamers. However, we do not write the official rules and can't spend too much time answering rules queries over the phone or we'll never get the orders despatched! If our Gretchin is familiar with a particular rules system, he'll be happy to give you advice, but his responses are not 'official' and are not to be taken as binding for competition games or leagues.

We can also answer your rules questions by post. To help us answer them clearly please use the five point mystic formula described below.

1. Put the name of the games system in the top left corner of the envelope.
2. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, or we won't be able to write back!
to get a reply. Foreign stamps can’t be used in the UK!

4. Phrase your questions so they can be answered ‘Yes’ or ‘No’ wherever possible.

5. Leave enough space on the sheet to write a reply to your question.

White Dwarf Magazine
You should read White Dwarf magazine every month. It will help you keep up to date with the many new miniatures we produce. Each month it contains the new catalogue pages for all the latest models released, plus painting articles and photos of many of the models, and usually gaming rules and background articles. White Dwarf is available from all Games Workshop stores, most good newsagents, and through Mail Order, who also run a subscription service.

White Dwarf Back Issues

Many back-issues of White Dwarf are still in stock. If you’re looking for a particular article our Mail Order staff can probably tell you where to find it and whether that issue is still available.

White Dwarf Trial copy

For a sample of White Dwarf just send £3.00 (includes P&P) to our Mail Order Service and we’ll send you the latest issue by return of post.

MAIL ORDER

For all Your Gaming Needs

Whether you need a complete 5000 point Chaos army or just the hind leg of a dragon we can put the power of the Citadel factory behind you. In Mail Order we have the moulds for every figure in production plus many discontinued codes. The guys who man the Mail Order phones also pick, pack and despatch your orders will do their utmost to ensure your order is as correct as possible. If the item you require can be identified and made available it will be.

Army Building

While many gamers who collect models for Warhammer, the Epic system or Warhammer 40,000 prefer to build their units with mixed troop types, there are those who like to have uniform ranks of identical models. We can supply you with any number of the same model to create your regiments, or provide single personalities as you require.

Spare Parts for Modellers

If you’re interested in modelling and converting Citadel miniatures, you’ll no doubt want to pick and choose specific items for your projects. We can supply just about any part from our many plastic and metal kits, such as specific sizes or types of wheel, gun barrels, etc. We have provided codes for nearly every component in the catalogue to make it easy for you to pick anything you might want. However if you can’t see what you’re after then give us a ring – we may have something suitable hidden somewhere.

Plastic Accessories

Many of our models now come as metal ‘body’ castings with separate arms and/or weapons made in plastic. The price of these models includes an appropriate number of plastic sprues. We will automatically supply the right sprue, as indicated in the Citadel Annual without any specific instructions.

However, if you would like a different but similar sprue – a different arm sprue, for instance – just let us know and we will make the substitution at no extra charge. For instance, a metal Ork Painboy is supplied with the Ork arms and the Ork weapons plastic sprue as standard. If you wanted to have the Ork heavy weapons sprue instead of the normal Ork weapons sprue then simply add ‘supply Ork Painboy with Ork heavy weapons sprue instead of Ork weapons sprue’ to your order.

Slottabases

These are automatically supplied with the models you order. If for some reason you don’t want the ‘official’ size of base, just let us know and again we will substitute at no extra cost.

Shields

When you order a model which requires a plastic shield we will normally supply a random shield from an appropriate sprue. If you would like a random shield from a different sprue then simply add a note to that effect to your order. Unfortunately we cannot supply a specific shield for any model. If you require one particular shield then you can buy a complete sprue of four shields separately.

Identifying Miniatures

To enable you to easily identify the model you want whether ordering by post, fax or phone, the range title is given at the top of the page (e.g. Skaven) and every page is numbered. By stating the range title and the page number, the name of the model itself, plus the mould code number where this is given, you can identify the exact model you want. Don’t forget to add how many of each model you require.

The mould code number refers to the individual mould for that model or component, and helps you to find the required miniature that much easier. Many multi-part models have no number for the complete model, as the separate components have different moulds. In this case, just give us the name of the model and we’ll send you all the bits you need automatically. The order form at the back of this booklet has space in full of all these details when you order by post or fax, and will help to give the right information when you order by phone.

If you’d like to order any components of a model separately, you will have to pay for each piece individually rather than a single price for the complete model. Prices for single components are on the price list underneath the model to which they belong. You will notice that buying a model by its component parts works out slightly more expensive, so you’ll only want to do it when you need a non-standard model or part.

If you have any doubts about us getting the right model if you order by post, enclose a photocopy of the catalogue page with the model or piece highlighted in some way.

Game Components

If your dog eats your Warhammer rulebook or you need extra floor sections for Warhammer Quest, or any other part from a Games Workshop game, worry not! We can supply you with components from all our games. For details of prices and to check whether the items are in stock, simply give us a ring.

Alternatives

We can nearly always cast any model not in stock, though sometimes the mould may not be available due to damage. Our order form gives you plenty of space to list alternatives if any of the models you require should be out of stock. Even if you make an order by phone it is often wise to give a few alternatives. Our staff should be able to offer viable alternatives for any models which aren’t available.

It is particularly important to give alternatives when you are responding to a sale or special offer as the more popular items sometimes go out of stock quite quickly and unless you provide alternatives you may miss your opportunity to obtain any of the bargains. It’s usually fairly obvious which items are going to sell our first!

Out of Stocks

If you order over the phone then our Troll will be able to tell you which games are in stock. Inevitably, when they pick the order they will sometimes find, for reasons completely beyond their control, that the item has sold out. This need not necessarily be a problem for metal models as we can probably cast the miniature specially for you, but with games we have to wait until the next print run. Normally we don’t hold back orders. We would rather send you an incomplete order with a credit note or alternatives than sit on your order until the games or models are back in stock, as it could be many weeks before this happens.

Credit Notes

If we have to send a credit note, then you can return it with your next order for goods up to that value, or:

a) You can return the credit note for a full cheque refund, or
b) You can spend the credit note at any Games Workshop store.

Credit notes don’t go out of date, and can be used at any time.

Breakages and Mistakes

Even we make the occasional mistake. If you do receive broken miniatures, or we make a mistake in your order, then we’ll gladly correct the error. If you do have a problem please give us a ring and we will discuss whether it’s necessary for you to send any part of your order back, and how we can correct it.

We will need:

a) Full details of your order,
b) The number on the packing slip, and if possible the packing slip itself,
c) The return of the damaged product (unpainted and unglued!)

Unfortunately we cannot accept models for exchange for any other reasons than they were imperfect or wrongly supplied, and under no circumstances can we take back models which are painted or assembled.

Despatch and Delivery

We always try and despatch your order within two days of receiving it, normally we get it out on the same day. Remember that parcels take rather longer than letters but in general you should get your order back within 14 days. Often it will even arrive sooner! Always allow 10 days for delivery. Our Mail Order staff will be happy to give you a status report on your order and its likely delivery time if you give them a ring, but please wait for at least 5 days before calling.

We do occasionally get a little behind, but this usually only happens when we hold a large sale with lots of irresistible offers, and in the run up to Christmas. So, if you’re responding to a sale offer be prepared to wait rather longer. If you’re ordering for Christmas please order before the 7th of December. Although we can send orders out special delivery up to the 22nd December, please ring for details. It’s really best if we receive your order no later than the last week of November.

During the Christmas period we not only receive massive amounts of mail, but the Post Office service also slows down. There is nothing at all we can do about this, other than work steadily through the orders in the order in which they were received. It is painful having to refuse people who desperately want an order in time for a Christmas gift, but we are often powerless to help.

Mail Order from Retail Stores

We are not able to accept Mail Orders via any of our retail outlets.

ASSEMBLY STAGE 1

ASSEMBLY NOTE
To ensure that your model remains stable, carefully remove the pin at the top of the flying base with a sharp modelling knife, as shown above. Then glue your finished model to the base.

ASSEMBLY STAGE 2

ASSEMBLY NOTE
Glue the two halves of the engine pod together before you attach them to the chassis and stabiliser fin.

ASSEMBLY NOTE
Position the two Space Marine crew members onto your Land Speeder before you attach the fairings to your model.

Designed by Norman Swales and Jes Goodwin
Not suitable for children under 36 months due to small parts and essential pointed components. This kit is supplied unpainted. The plastic parts need to be assembled using polystyrene cement. © Copyright Games Workshop Ltd 1996. All rights reserved.

Space Ork Mega-Gargants are the embodiment of the Waaagh! Ork. These towering machines of death bristle with the most destructive fire power that the Ork Mekboys can muster. Their huge Skullcrusha Mega-cannon and deadly Deth Ray can pulverise titans and tanks alike into scrap metal. Da Big Lobba and Krooz Missulls rain death from on high, obliterating whole regiments of troops. As the Mega-Gargant thunders across the battlefield, driven forward on its huge clanking tracks, this massive ork machine strikes terror into the hearts of all its foes.

This multi-part plastic model kit comes complete with an Ork Mega-Gargant Datacard and all the counters you need to use this exciting Ork Titan in your Epic games. The boxed set also contains a complete Space Ork Mega-Gargant assembly instruction sheet and 2 sheets of Citadel waterslide transfers to fully detail your finished model.

This model requires assembly. We recommend that the parts are cleaned and trimmed with a modelling knife before being painted with Citadel paints.

IMPERATOR TITAN

Emperor Class Titans dominate the war torn battlefields of the 41st Millennium dealing death to all foes of the Imperium of Man. The Imperator is a towering engine of destruction unrivalled throughout the galaxy. As it relentlessly moves forward, it lays waste whole regiments of troops with its Hellstorm Cannon, before grinding them to dust beneath its armoured bastions. Very few enemy Titans will survive even a single scorching blast from the Imperator’s terrifying Plasma Annihilator, and most seek the protection of cover at the first sight of the Imperator’s towering form.

This multi-part plastic model comes complete with an Imperator Titan Datacard and all the counters you need to use this Emperor class Titan in your Epic games. The boxed set also contains an Imperator Titan assembly instruction sheet, 3 sheets of full-colour self-adhesive banners and a sheet of Citadel waterslide transfers.

This model requires assembly. We recommend that the parts are cleaned and trimmed with a modelling knife before being painted with Citadel paints.
